New Classes for the New Year

January 2018

Goodness! January is almost over, kids back to school in the next few days - I bet any break that you have had over the holiday season seems like a distant memory now! We are gearing up for a new year of classes at The Sewing Store with classes starting mid February.

I have been busy over the past few months gaining a BurdaStyle Teacher accreditation, so I now have the BurdaStyle certificate, and can now officially teach the "BurdaStyle" way of sewing! It has been a fun and interesting experience and it has reminded me that you will always learn something! Don't worry - my classes will still be my classes, and will have my tips and tricks as well! The first one of my BurdaStyle classes is the Beginners Skirt, scheduled in March.

We also have Pattern Drafting, Beginners Sewing, Beginners Baby Quilt, Dresden Plate, Applique, Improve Your Dressmaking.... there are many to choose from. Have a look through the schedule attached and give us a call, email, or pop into the store to sign up.

New Products

We have had some absolutely GORGEOUS new patchwork fabrics arrive - some beautiful subtle shades, perfect for baby quilts! And my new favourite tools have also arrived in from the States.... these are fantastic for anyone who likes to alter patterns, or draft their own.

We look forward to seeing you in The Sewing Store soon, and don't forget to visit our facebook page for the latest updates, or if you don't have facebook, you can check our website here.

Happy sewing,
Anna, Lars and the team from The Sewing Store
